Rather than fight the Germans in German Southwest Africa, Brigadier General Beyers, commandant general of the forces in South Africa has resigned his position.

According to rumor the Bavarian troops in the German army are near to mutiny. They were marched in to battle under the impression that they were going to maneuvers. Also because the Germans have defied portraits of the Queen of the Belgians, who was a Bavarian princess.

Nine hundred thousand Russians are marching into Central Poland to be followed by an army of 2,000,000 more.

Russia will soon have 7,000,000 men on the move.

Italy has about 500,000 men under arms and will probably declare war on Germany by October.

The Germans have been driven out of Tonnende and the Belgians led by King Albert marched into it.

GERMAN SUBMARINES BUSY

Sink Three British Cruisers Allies Struggle Continues Russia Advances

CANADIAN CONTINGENT ALL READY TO SAIL

Five German submarines sank three British cruisers, the Aboukir, Crug and Hogue. The vessels were blown up by torpedoes. Seven hundred of the crews were saved. The other British ships opened fire on the submarines and sank two with all hands aboard. It is probable that this will cause England to hasten a naval battle because Germany may destroy too many ships in this manner.

As soon as transports and convoys can be provided the Canadian contingent that has been a Valcartier will sail for England. This first contingent consists of 31,200 men and 7,500 horses making 19 battalions of infantry including Princess Patricia regiment. There will be 8 squadrons of Strathcona Horse, 3 squadrons of Royal Canadian Dragoons and the artillery, 4,000 men and many 12, 18 and 68 pound guns.

The struggle along the river Aisne continues and neither army have had any decisive results. German reinforcements are coming all the time and the Allies cannot make an assault without a terrible sacrifice. Both English and French say that it will require an almost superhuman effort to win. Along a front of 150 miles millions of men are engaged. Exhausted by constant fighting from trenches deep in water from the continuous rain, a terrible struggle is going on that will try the metal of the armies engaged.

General Louis Botha, premier of the Union of South Africa will take supreme command of the British operations against German south west Africa.

Britain has thrown a line of 200 warships across the North Sea by the German naval base at Heligoland, that will make it impossible for any ships to get through.

Reports come from Petrograd, that the Russian army continues to pursue the Austrians. They have captured 30 guns and ammunition and taken 5,000 prisoners. The border from Yusevoff to Annopol is full of Cossacks.

Russians are bombarding the Austrian fortress of Przemyśl. It is also reported that they have repulsed the Austrians near Baranov and Raniachov in Galicia.

A regiment of British infantry received the order to take a German position. Knowing the cost was to be great they knelt a minute in prayer. Then with cheers they began the advance. The Germans met them with machine guns, that took a heavy toll, but with fixed bayonets those that remained of the attacking party took the position.

Information has been given out by the British Admiralty of success and misfortune at sea. The British merchant cruiser Carmania has sunk a German merchant cruiser off the coast of south South America. The German cruiser Königsberg has completely disabled the British cruiser Pezassa, while the latter was overhauling her machinery in Zanzibar harbor. The German cruiser Endau has sunk six British merchant steamers in the Bay of Bengal.

In the bombardment of Rheims the Germans concentrated their artillery fire on the cathedral until it caught fire. The building was being used for a hospital and was flying the Red Cross flag. French doctors removed many German wounded at personal risk.

NO MORE WAR FOR THE BRITISH ARMY

THE BRITISH ARMY HAS CREATED A ROYAL NAVY

AN AIR SERVICE

The introduction of the Aerial Army in the British Empire's Fighting Forces is considered to be a Pre-lude to the History of War in the Air.

The British Admiralty has just announced the creation of a Royal Navy Air Service, which is to be a service with its own flag and uniform.

The first promulgation of the regulations marks a distinct step in the introduction of the aerial army into the empire's fighting forces, in fact it is a prelude to the history of war in the air.

Up to the present date air work in the navy has been of the recent birth to admit of the application of any line of organization. The present regulations show that it is considered that the time has now come when the navy should begin a distinct and individual life of its own.

It is to have therefore in these regulations the formation of a royal navy air service, which is to be situated as a distinct, part of the military, or fighting branch of the navy.

The scheme is based on the principle that all aircraft are to be manned in this naval air service shall be equal, whether they are in the military command, so that officers and men of the military and naval forces, those transferring from the army to the navy, and those in the civil life shall all take rank and precedence according to a common scale.

The service made while performing air service duties.

It has therefore been decided to the first instance to frame an air service in the navy, and to have officers and men now engaged on this work, and in future, to have them all take position on the list from the date of their transfer.

At the same time, the regulations will be adjusted so that previous service of candidates will be taken into account, and shall begin as nearly equal as is practicable.

The pay is on approximately the same scale as those for submarine service, but slightly higher.

The uniform will be the same as that worn by executive officers in the royal navy.

Each member of the service will wear the stripes on the left sleeve of the uniform.

An important feature of the new regulations is that it will permit the service to be organized into a service, in which they will hold a number of active and reserve positions.

New French Low Taxes Foreigners

A bill, which is being introduced in the French Chamber of Deputies, will give a new tax of 5 per cent on all "rentes" which they possess outside of France.

The United States financier who is building a notable house in Paris declares that he will stop the construction of his residence, as he is not a resident in the United States.

The tax has caused consternation among foreign residents who do not wish to lose the right to their income, it has even caused consternation in some of the banks which make them collectors of the tax.

We are blamed by our excited critics for collecting the tax, and at the same time we see them recommending their authorities to foreign banks, while we are compelled to employ more clerks to explain and enforce the new law.

The law is designed to take the direct taxes upon the farmers, which are presently heavily upon the products, and raising the cost of living.

May Put Ltd on German Capital

Everybody in Berlin has heard of the profit from the city's far-famed night life, but that same life is being used to raise money for the threatened shutting up of the city at 11 p.m.

Regulations to that effect are now being considered by the Prussian ministry of the interior, which controls the police.

The scheme is carried out by a committee, which is to be set up, drawing, drinking, dancing, or other pleasure, must be able to keep their eyes open later than 11 o'clock except in specially designated places, which must furnish satisfactory evidence that a license is urgently required.

Sheep Grazing Charges

At the instance of the minister of the interior, the 1914 and 1915 prohibiting the grazing of sheep in certain portions of southern Alberta has been repealed, the reason being that they conflict with the regulations of the 1914 and 1915, whereby license may be granted to sheep owners to graze their sheep in the west by the 1914 and 1915.

MADE $75 FLOWERS FOR 10c

N. Y. Factory Investigations Reveal

Pliff and illegal labor conditions were revealed at a hearing before the New York factory investigating commission.

George Hall, of the New York Child Labor Commission, displayed a number of artificial flowers, later "labeled" by the commission, which were made by children in tenement houses. Some of the children were as young as 10 to 12 years.

As a fair sample, Mr. Hall exhibited a box of 100 flowers which were made by a child of 14 years old. He said the child was paid 10 cents for each box, then up to 15 cents to make 10 cents.

The average cost of each, under the present conditions, would not exceed 50 cents per week.

Another instance shown where a mother and three children, aged respectively 8, 13 and 15 years, were employed. Their combined earnings being between $6 and $7 per week.

It is claimed that many of the results are so promising that it is possible to get a child into a school as early as 10 years of age.

WE ARE FEEDING THE BABY LEMBERGER CHEESE, SO WE CAN FIND IT IN THE DARK

The other day I went fishing at Bow river
Every little bit helps.
And I caught, myself, one little smelt.

I put that smelt in the pan to fry
And in a few minutes I nearly did die

I never smelt a smelt like that smelt smelt

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1914.

An Oil Well? Maybe!

Unheralded to the outside world and unsuspected by hundreds of citizens of the town, a drilling outfit is working almost within the corporate limits of Carlstadt.

Said it's a secret. A dark secret! Down, down, goes the drill, nearer and nearer the precious liquid. Mysterifying rumors float about of a "big flow" and a "real gusher."

Meanwhile, Chief Driller Farrell and his forces are working long shifts and hope soon to strike a good flow of water for the C.P.R. stockyards.

At a depth of 120 feet they are drilling through a strata of solid rock. This is especially notable, as it is understood to be the first well drilled in this vicinity to strike that stratum.

Why not Pumpkin Center, Too?

Civilized or Barbarian?

Germany has a heavy lot to pay. The atrocities enacted in Belgium can never be atoned for. These alone, destroyed their national honor and with it, gone, they are hardly to be recognized as a civilized people.

To outrage and shoot women, little children and defenseless old men is a blot on the name of any country. But this is not sufficient to satisfy the lust of this twentieth century monster. If the Germans are compelled to evacuate a town they must first destroy it, if they cannot enter a town at once they destroy it.

The burning of the city of Louvain was the method used to spread "German culture" throughout the globe. The celebrated seat of learning is now a pile of ashes. The stately churches that people have traveled the world over to see, the famous University, the library of 700,000 books and priceless manuscripts some of which can never be replaced, are all gone.

Fourteen years ago the Kaiser told his troops—"Let all who fall into your hands be at my mercy. Gain a reputation like the Hun under Attila." The lesson has been learned a greater reputation has been gained and civilization must crush this monster that respects neither law of God nor man. In explanation Berlin says—"The only means of preventing surprise attacks from the civil population has been to interfere with unrelenting severity and to create examples which by their frightfulness would be a warning to the whole country."

Rhinos is to suffer also. The old cathedral, a masterpiece in structure, in use as a hospital and flying the Red Cross flag, is made the target for heavy artillery fire, until it was destroyed. It is noteworthy that the French doctors risked their lives to rescue German wounded from the burning building but the priests had to protect these same wounded outside.

General Botha is liable to prove quite a bother in German southwest Africa. Did you get it Steve?

A very largely attended meeting of the W.A. was held at the residence of Mrs. W. M. Cotter last week when the members and friends continued their sewing for the wounded soldiers at war. Final arrangements were made for the concert and dance tonight, Thursday, in aid of the same object. Small silk flags will be sold 5¢ and 10¢. Those wishing to give money, material or articles such as large handkerchiefs, woolen socks, cuffs, heavy flannel shirts, balalaeva caps, etc., may leave them with the secretary, Mrs. Cotter, at the post office.

Station Agent Brown had as visitors on Monday morning the following C.P.R. officials: J. E. English, Train and Building foreman; Trainmaster A. F. Hawkins and Resident Engineer J. H. Soans.

Mrs. F. J. Bean accompanied by her mother Mrs. Currenley, made a business trip to the Hat Tuesday.

DO NOT SACRIFICE YOUR STOCK

There are many indications that the farmers and stockmen in southern Alberta have become ominously alarmed at the prospect of a shortage of feed for the coming winter and have been selling their animals at a price much below what is warranted by present conditions. The late summer rains have improved the pastures amazingly and have been productive of a large amount of greenfeed on fields from which nothing was expected.

Furthermore, the Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture, in receipt of a large number of requests from northern farmers who are prepared to buy cattle and sheep or to take a bunch to winter either on a cash basis or on shares. A list of these farmers will be supplied to any person making application for the same.

Where animals are within trailing distance of the place which has been selected for wintering, the Provincial Live Stock Commissioner offers to carry out a route over which they can be taken and along which hay and water can be secured. He also offers to visit each bunch once a month during the winter and advise the owner of the manner in which they are being cared for.

Stockmen who desire to avail themselves of the above assistance should communicate with the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

H. P. Hanson, of Bingville, was in town this week and purchased a load of lumber of the Starr Lumber company. When the post office is finished Mr. Hanson is to be postmaster there.

George Russell and family moved into the Hanson building this week.

Before Justices of the Peace C. H. Wagner and J. W. Clarkson, on Wednesday F. Quass was charged by Constable Thompson RSWMP with pointing a gun at Dibble. A fine of $10 and $12.50 costs was imposed and the gun and rifle were confiscated.

Buy an Irrigated Farm

FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year. Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years' to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (6% interest); no principal payment at the end of first and second years and no water rental for first year. Assistance is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record.
